THE HERALD is authorized to announce

HON. J. N. GARNER,

a Candidate for Congress from as this, the Fifteenth District, subject to the Democratic Nominating Convention.

Congress has granted $200,000 for the relief of the sufferers from the Martinique disaster. But one man opposed the donstion, and the state of Alabama should make apologies for sending him to con-

THE San Antonio Chronicle says the citizens of that place are anxions to know how much the city owes. Why should they worry about it? The parties to whom the city is in debt should be the ones to worry.

COMMENTING upon THE HER-ALD's suggestion that the state should establish a Pasteur institute, the Houston Post says:

Such a thing as a Pasteur institute is sadly needed in Texas, and would be the means of saving many of the lives which are yearly sacrificed for the want of such an institution. The person without means who is now bitten by a rabid animal can hope for no relief but death; and even the person with neans to travel stands a poor hance for life, because of the disance to be traversed before help an be procured. Let Texas have a Pasteur institute by all means.

DEFENDS JEFF DAVIS.

Roosevelt's Insult to Davis.

May 7, says:-

A bitter and caustic arraignement of the president of the United States was contained in the speech of Rt. Rev. Benjamin J. Keiley, Roman Catholic Bishop of Savannah, to his Memorial Day address on April 26. Bishop Keiley was a boy soldier in the armies offthe Confederacy; and his attack upon President Roosevelt found its inspiration, in part, in the president's attack upon the memory of Jefferson Davis. After paying a high tribute to President Davis, reviewing his service to the C. C. C. Never sold in bulk. All Confederacy, Bishop Keily continued:

"It is true that the gentleman who now happens to sit in the presidential chair in Washington has written of President Davis: Before Jefferson Davis took his place among arch traitors, etc., it he should add treachery to the public. The moral difference between Benedict Arnold on the one hand and Asron Burr and Jefferson Davis on the other is the difference between a politician one who supports a bad measure to onnecting lines, charges, rders for freig get a bigh political position.'

"When Mr. Davis was willing, and a prisoner, a fellow named Miles placed shackles on him in prison, though there was no necessity for it, and no one but a brute would have done it. But I have never heard that Miles, after Mr. David's death brutally maligned his character; that species of envenomed malice was reserved for the recreant son of a southern woman, the rough rider of Republican polities.

"The accidency of 1902 brought forth the lightning change artist of the white house, who can indulge in meaningless platitudes while in the south on the bravery and common heritage of the Southers heroes and denounce them before the Grand Army as anarchists; who can profess a broad American spirit, which brands sectionalism as a crime and land the loyalty of our veterans of 1861-65 to the constitution and remaited country, while the damning evidence of his own written word shows that he compared 'The noblest Roman of havest them all," Jefferson Davis, to a Benedict Arnold.

"Jefferson Davis was a stateman, a soldier and a man of high character, a senator, a cabinet office by a bullet, but not by ballot.

"Theodore Roosevelt's title to immortal fame will rest on bis shooting beats and profiting by the murderous act of a reprobate who shot a man. The present occupant of the chair of Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Jackson, aye, and of Cleveland, is familiarly and with propriety known by the soubriquet, 'The Rough Rider.' His only claim to future fame or notoriety will be, I sincerely trust, that he broke up the Republican party."
